Dear Parents/Carers

We just wanted to send a reminder around the staff training day on the 6th November 2024.

We wanted to let everybody know about this training day as early as possible so communicated this to parents and carers in the Summer term last academic year. The training day change has been reflected on the website since Summer.

When setting the academic school year, we are required to do this on a rolling 2-year advance model. However, when securing training this can be subject to change. This may have resulted in past academic dates being confused with the most up to date version.

Last academic year we were successful in securing SCERTS training, delivered by Dr Emily Rueben. Emily is a world-renowned speaker and trainer and one of the founders of SCERTS.

SCERTS is a multidisciplinary educational approach designed for autistic children and adolescents as well as those with diverse social emotional learning profiles. The approach aligns with our ethos and having trained all staff in 2019 we felt that it is in the best interest of our pupils to refresh the training. As you can imagine, being such a high-profile training opportunity, we had to book the date requested by Emily herself.

Apologies if this has caused any confusion.
